

SUPPLEMENT TO THE
St. Louis Sunday Post-Dispatch.
JANUARY 19, 1902.

By Publication of
SOL. BLOOM, CHICAGO.
Publisher and Owner of Copyright.

SOMEBODY'S LOVE.

(LOW VOICE.)

Words by J. I. WEISS.

Music by LEO FRIEDMAN.

Moderato.

Intro. p

1. I want some - bod - y's love to - night, My heart is full of woe; I
2. The great world rush - es on so fleet, It nev - er stops to see; It Copyright, 1908, by Sol. Bloom. International Copyright secured.

hear but harsh and care-less words Where-ev-er I may go; No nev-er lis-tens to the cry Of lone-some souls like me; But friends have I in all this world, They all have passed a-hove; To-out of all this count-less throng That rude-ly pass me by, There night I'm sad and all a lone, I want some-bod-y's love..... must be one heart turned to mine, There must be one to love.....

REFRAIN. Espresso

Some-bod-y's love, some-bod-y's love, I care not whose it be; Some one whose heart is kind and true, With on-ly a share for me;..... Some-bod-y's love, Some-bod-y's love, Oh, send it from a - bove, Some-bod-y's love for me to-night, I long for some one's love.....

Somebody's Love. (Low Voice) 2-4